

ROCK CREEK STATE PARK

5628 Rock Creek East, Kellogg, IA 50135

Rock Creek State Park, nestled into the eastern corner of Jasper County, was dedicated in 1952. It is a very popular park among campers, but also offers a number of day-use activities such as boating, fishing, swimming, and multi-use trail activities. Throughout the park are plenty of opportunities to view wildlife and to picnic.

PARK AMENITIES/POINTS OF INTEREST/THINGS TO DO

Rock Creek's west side has a beach and shelter area along with knolls of tallgrass and shortgrass prairies. These areas are great to view wildlife, birds and butterflies. Wildlife management areas at the north and south ends of the lake, allow for pheasant, duck and deer hunting in the fall and winter. Thousands of ducks migrating to their summer breeding grounds in the spring take refuge in the solitude of Rock Creek. The concentrations of teal, bluebills and mallards offer an excellent opportunity for bird watching.

Along the lake are several artificial jetties next to boat ramps. At the south boat ramp, there is universally accessible fishing as well as boat slips available to rent April 15 to Oct. 15. Anglers can expect to catch crappie, bluegill, largemouth bass, walleye and channel catfish from the lake.

Rock Creek offers a myriad of campsites, both electric and non-electric, and some are along the water. The campground has modern restrooms and shower buildings. Adjacent to the campground is the Rock Creek concession, here you will find items such as boat rentals, bait, and firewood. An ADA fishing pier is available at the beach near the boat ramp

There are 8.5 miles of multi-use, non-paved trails around the perimeter of the lake for hiking, biking, skiing, horseback riding and snowmobiling. There is a 5.5-mile bike trail along the park's east side that goes to the town of Grinnell.

SPECIAL PARK RULES

Boats and other water craft have no motor restrictions but must operate at a 5 mph limit. If you are going to picnic, please carry out your trash with you. Pick up the rules/regulations booklet for more information on general park rules.
