

HONEY CREEK STATE PARK

12194 Honey Creek Place, Moravia, IA 52571

Welcome to Honey Creek State Park, home of Rathbun Lake in Appanoose County. Honey Creek is your starting point for all of the summer and winter activity that you want to do. Enjoy your visit.

PARK AMENITIES/POINTS OF INTEREST/THINGS TO DO

Honey Creek is on beautiful 11,000-acre Rathbun Lake, one of the best spots for crappie and walleye fishing in Iowa. Honey Creek has the largest boat ramp on the lake, making easy to launch your boat. The north boat ramp is designated as 24-hour fishing access and is highlighted on the map found on the reverse.

Honey Creek is a favorite destination for camping enthusiasts. There are a plethora of modern campsites with showers and rest rooms. Some of the sites have full recreational vehicle hook-ups (sewer, water, electricity), and several are equipped with electricity only. Electricity is available year-round in the campgrounds. The full hook-ups however, are closed during the winter as well as the shower house. Honey Creek also has one universally accessible campsite. Two open shelters are available to rent as well.

Honey Creek has four camping cabins. These cabins have an open floor plan, electricity and are located near campgrounds. The cabins have a microwave and dorm-size refrigerator, and heating and air conditioning. They do not have water or sanitary facilities but renters may use the campground sanitary facilities.

Hikers will enjoy the five miles of multi-use trails and the Woodland Interpretive Trail. Follow the interpretive trail and learn about the 11 ancient Woodland Indian mounds left behind by these first inhabitants to the area. Displays on the history of Honey Creek are located in a shelter at the beginning of the interpretive trail.
